STORES TO CLOSE HOMECOMING DAY

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 18 — Issue of whether or not Porterville's stores will close on Homecoming day, November 11, was brought to a head Tuesday night when members of the Porterville Merchants' committee voted unanimously to recommend that all stores close on that day. A capacity crowd attended the meeting.

WOODVILLE PLANNING BANQUET

WOODVILLE, Feb. 18 — Tickets have gone on sale for the annual Woodville chamber of commerce banquet, Saturday, March 5, with sale limited to 400 for the fried chicken dinner that will be prepared by the Woodville Civic club.

The banquet—Woodville's 22nd annual — will be served in the Woodville school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m., with a dance to follow at the Woodville Civic hall.

As has been the pattern in past years, a large delegation from Porterville is expected to attend the banquet to defend Porterville against the delegation that will struggle in from the swamps of Tulare.

Handling arrangements are new officers of the Woodville chamber: Robert Fallert, president; Albert Rosso, vice president, and Walter Sommers, secretary-treasurer. New directors of the chamber are: Bert Grimsley, Frank Narnerea and Fallert; holdover directors are: Roy Brinkley, Roscoe and Ray Jackson; Roscoe Honeycutt has been appointed to the board to fill a vacancy created by resignation of Donald Farquharson.

Banquet tickets can be obtained in Porterville by telephoning SU 4-6876.

Letters Ask Year Around Balch Park Road

SPRINGVILLE, Feb. 18 — Letters to the various chambers of commerce in Tulare county asking that the Tulare county board of supervisors be contacted relative to keeping the Balch Park road open on a year-around basis have been sent out by the Springville chamber of commerce.

The letters point out provisions of the Grant deed from the Balch family in which it is stated that (Continued On Page 10)

Canterbelles Developing New Drill; Girls Between 10 And 18 Years Are Invited To Join Group

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 18 — Another sign that spring is just around the corner — Porterville's Canterbelles are riding again in regular practice to perfect a new drill routine, and interested girls are being invited to join this group of precision riders.

Actually a number of new girls have already come into the group, with 23 reporting for practice last Saturday, and with other girls expected.

No firm dates for Canterbelle appearances have been made as yet, since the team is almost "starting from scratch" this season, and before bookings are made a new drill must be perfected, according to Clovis Vest, president of the newly-formed Canterbelle Parents' group.

As soon as the team is ready, however, bookings will be made and it is expected the girls will begin riding in public performance this spring and summer.

Girls between the ages of 10 and 18 years are invited to join the Canterbelle organization; members must own their horse and must deposit $8.50 when a Canterbelle uniform is issued to Directing the group is Mrs. Bill Beaver, who was a member of the original Canterbelle riding team that was formed about 12 years ago. Practice is held Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock at the Rocky Hill arena.

Girls desiring to join the Canterbelles should contact Mrs. Beaver, Vest, Verne Schwinn, Mrs. Cecil Hyder, John Bussey or E. L. Beaver.

CITY OF PORTERVILLE BUDGET HAS 47 SUBHEADS

Porterville's actual budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year comes to $1,147,491.03, and since this budget is balanced, this amount of money will be both collected and spent during the fiscal year. (A broad summary of where the money comes from was contained in this column last week.)

As to what city money is spent for, breakdown can be given in three very general categories: Salaries to city employees, $360,527; operating expenses, $224,472, and capital outlay, $283,300. Add to these three figures such items as bond redemptions; emergency fund, trust funds, and certain funds that are set aside in anticipation of future needs, and the total budget figure emerges.

To be more specific, here are total department expenditure items about which questions are often asked. Cost to operate the police department, for instance, will run $117,646; improvement and maintenance of city streets will run nearly $100,000; cost to light city streets, $20,700; recreation program, concentrated in summer activity, $12,846; general government, $124,334; fire department, $84,114; city library, $33,782; city parks, $38,825, with capital outlay of over $16,000; insurance of one kind and another, about $54,000. All of these expenditures have one thing in common—they are, for the most part, accepted and necessary expenditures of government from which the city derives little or no income.

There are other city enterprises that not only require budgeted expenditure, but that also return money to the city, for instance: Municipal golf course, expenditure, $19,684, with estimated income, $16,500. An item of $3,000 is budgeted in expenditures for building repair and new green construction, and, in answer to the oft-repeated question, "Does the golf course pay for itself," "Yes and no." Over a period of years, actual expenditure on the golf course and actual income has about broken even, however, there is no provision for an accumulation of funds to offset necessary improvements and the city faces, sooner or later, a rather sizable expenditure to repair and replace the course sprinkling system.

Budgeted for expenditure at the municipal airport is $22,453, with estimated income, $10,600; cost to operate the municipal swimming pool is budgeted at $18,006, with estimated income, $14,725; parking meter and parking lot operation expenditure is budgeted at $25,088, with an item of capital improvement of $6,600 included, with income from parking meters estimated at $26,000; water department expense is budgeted at $126,372, including some $56,000 in capital improvements, with an estimated income of $102,950; garbage disposal expenditure is budgeted at $49,722, including a capital investment item of $1,000, offset by an estimated income of $48,275.

Under the category of sanitation are major items of: Sewers and storm drains, $45,735, including some $36,000 in capital outlay; sewage disposal plant operation, $23,492; street cleaning, $9,600; and retiring of bonds on the sewage disposal plant at the rate of $25,000 per year plus interest. Only direct income offsetting these items is the sewage rental fee that will bring in an estimated $38,500, all of which is now earmarked to retire bonds.

There are a few lesser items of expenditure, for instance $8,340 to keep the municipal ball park operating, with $3,000 included for improvement of ball park lights; a disaster and flood control fund of $3,500; civic promotion in the form of League of California Cities dues, $400, Porterville chamber of commerce, $1,800, and this year only, about $7,000 for chamber of commerce use in Christmas decorations and permanent wiring in connection with the decorations.

In the city budget are 47 subheads, with detailed items listed under each subhead. In determining the city budget, policy is traditionally to estimate income on a very conservative basis and expenditures on a broader basis, thereby providing a "safety cushion." And since estimates are for a year in advance, and since situations are changing quite rapidly in some areas of the city, the budget represents a sort of educated guide for city expenditures, and not necessarily the absolute amounts that will be involved.

Naturally, the city budget is public property. Anyone who wishes to look it over in detail has only to ask for it in the city hall.

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS STILL INTERESTED IN PORTERVILLE

WHILE ORGANIZED baseball for Porterville is dead at the moment, the St. Louis Cardinals are still interested in Porterville as location for a Class C, California league team.

IN A letter received this week, Walter Shannon, supervisor of player personnel for the Cardinals, thanked Porterville baseball fans for the cordial reception that he received when he visited Porterville in January, along with Eddie Mulligan, president of the California league.

SHANNON SAID, in part, "with the organization of the Pioneer league, quite naturally President Eddie Mulligan was not able to expand the California league to eight clubs.

"THE OPERATION of the Minor league today is dependent upon working agreements with Major league clubs. Without a working agreement it is impossible to operate a ball club.

"MY VISIT to Porterville was an enjoyable one. The baseball interest shown by the committee was excellent. I sincerely hope that come 1961, Porterville will be a part of organized baseball, a member of the California league.

"I HOPE the committee stays together and does everything possible to improve your baseball facilities. I look for an expansion of the Minor league picture in 1961 due to many factors that are on the horizon today, and many unseen possibilities that will surely shape up within the next twelve months. Best of luck, and let me

WINTER WATER BENEFICIAL TO ALFALFA STAND

VISALIA, Feb. 18 — Farm Advisor Bill Saltee says that irrigating established stands of alfalfa on deep soils in the winter months has increased total yields of hay in tests conducted by University of California Experiment station. Shallow soils will also benefit from a winter irrigation if there has not been enough rainfall to wet the soil to field capacity to the full depth of the roots.

Sufficient water should be applied to wet deep soils to a depth of six feet. This provides reserve moisture for the alfalfa roots at lower depths in the summer months. Heavy irrigations can be applied in the wintertime without danger of phytophthora root rot, which is often encountered in the growing season, according to Saltee.

wish the Porterville committee the very best of everything."

ALL OF which verifies the idea that if Porterville baseball fans want a team in the California league, they should set up an organization, incorporate, and be ready to go when the next opportunity arises. The "spade work" should be taken care of now, if fans desire a Class C team, so that concentrated work on details can be started when the time comes.

STATE CONTROL OF LIBRARIES?

Struggle for centralized power to replace local authority is found these days in many areas of public administration, even in what might be considered the unlikely area of California's public libraries.

Although there has been no great burst of headlines on the subject as yet, Assembly Bill 1985 was put in the hopper at the last session of the state legislature; this bill is still kicking around, and can be expected to pop up again in the general legislative session next year.

Meanwhile, those persons interested in centering public library control in the hands of the state librarian are quietly building their political fences wherever they can.

AB 1985 sets up the usual trap — money; in this case state money given to city and county libraries.

With this money, as is also usual, goes certain restrictions — three major ones in this case:

1. Libraries that accept state money must accept personnel qualifications as determined by the state librarian, in other words, the state librarian virtually decides who the local libraries will hire.

2. Libraries that accept state money also must allow the state librarian to decide what books the library needs, the number of books, and the quality of books.

3. Processing of books for libraries receiving state aid would be done at a central point.

This latter provision is logical if local libraries allow themselves to be drawn under a state plan, so it needs no further discussion.

But the first two points establish the premise for centralized control of public libraries by the state librarian, and possibly some kind of library board, which board, of course, would also favor centralized library control.

In pushing for passage of AB 1985 these arguments are used: Certain public libraries could stand improvement, therefore the state should improve them; local people do not have the brains or the desire to improve their own facilities, so the masterminds at the state level take over; start passing out state money to a few libraries, then the rest will get on the band wagon and not only go after state money, but will also accept state control; local librarians and library boards are not smart enough to determine what books, and how many, their own library should have, so the state should tell them — and control them.

It is under the guise of improving library facilities in general that state control of libraries is being pushed. But this plan could only result in the creation of a system in which all libraries would tend toward mediocrity, with little possibility of attaining excellence.

And underlying the entire idea is control — centralized control of libraries, centralized control of thought. That is not good. Libraries in Tulare county are opposing AB 1985. This opposition should continue, with support from all of us.

SQUAW VALLEY MOST FABULOUS INSTALLATION SINCE THE ALPS

TODAY THIS DEPARTMENT turns its attention to the matter of Squaw Valley, sometimes called Squawk Valley by some individuals of an impolite nature. Squaw Valley is very much in the news today, and is running neck to neck with the Finch trial in newspaper coverage. Of course, Squaw Valley doesn't have Tregoff, but it's got about everything else.

IT IS NO SECRET THAT said Valley is the home of the 1960 edition of the Winter Olympics. Some years ago, Squaw Valley was a mere catch-all for snow in winter and mosquitoes in summer. No one gave it much thought as it went along its way year in and year out. Then, some enterprising gentleman stumbled onto the scene. He wasn't looking for gold, but from current indications he found it anyway. Doubtless his thoughts ran thusly: "Here is a place that is lousy with snow that should attract many people, especially of the winter sports variety, and where there are people, these is boodle."

NOW, MANY YEARS and several million dollars later, courtesy of the sovereign State of California, Squaw Valley is the most fabulous installation since they invented the Alps. Everyone is warned to speak or write only in superlatives when mentioning it. Up to a few weeks ago, it was the driest ski course in the country, then it became the wettest, now of course, it is the snowiest. Skating rinks, ski lifts, dining rooms, dormitories, grand stands, and what not have sprouted like mushrooms on a spring day.

PEOPLE ARE POPPING into the Valley now from 'round and about the world to compete in the various events. There is the Slalom, the jump, the broken ankle handicap, the figure skating and the sprained wrist hazard course. Possibly the most popular event is the Complaint Sweepstakes. This event is governed by very loose rules, and nearly everyone enters it, using whatever tools are handy. Some say there is too much snow, some say too little, others don't like the food, another says the dormitories are crowded, etc. Nothing is overlooked in this event, and sometimes a country enters a distance champion who goes on and on, while another prefers the relay system whereby the gripe is passed from teammate to teammate like an inverted Olympic Torch. When the games are over, the winner will be given a medallion emblazoned with a set of gnashing teeth and torn hair.

OUR TOWN HAS A considerable interest in all the goings on, what with the High School Band and Choir taking off to participate in the opening ceremonies. We think the members deserve a round of congratulations for their selection, which was done on the basis of merit. We envy them the fun and the memories they will have.

STILL, THERE ARE a lot of things we would rather do than stand ankle deep in snow and play the piccolo in sub-zero weather.

BUT, WHEN all is said that is to be said, it's really more than something to have the Winter Olympics in California.

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams
32nd District
California State Legislature

As your Legislator, it is one of my major responsibilities to scrutinize carefully the budget requests of the state administration. In the best interests of the State and all its citizens, we cannot permit ourselves to merely rubber-stamp the demands for tax money.

In a State expanding as rapidly as California, it is really a monumental job to analyze the multitude of different state functions so that their expenditure programs can be carefully controlled for true economy. But the job must be done if our State is to be given the kind of government it needs at a price we can afford to pay. As I have said here before, that is why we created the office of legislative analyst several years ago, so that he and his staff could do the detailed review we need to make sound decisions.

The analyst has just released his report to the joint legislative budget committee on the $2.5 billion budget bill. The 650-page document well reflects the hours of patient work by our budget bill. The 650-page document well reflects the hours of patient work by our budget bill. The 650-page document well reflects the hours of patient work by our budget bill.

The report recommends reductions totalling about $13,700,000 in the budget requested, but this is a minimum figure. In addition to his specific suggestions, the analyst states that he is unable to advise us on many other items, either because he has not been given needed data, or it is not available.

The total of the cuts urged may seem very small in comparison to fact demonstrates two things. First, the budget as submitted to us is really a pretty tight one. Second, our California system of practically year-around budget development and review produces real efficiency and economy.

So many reductions are recommended by the analyst that it would be impossible to even list all of them here. On the average, they amount to a few thousand dollars per agency, but in a few cases, hundreds of thousands, or even millions of dollars are involved.

Perhaps the largest single cut suggested is in the proposed budget for the department of mental hygiene. The analyst recommends that $2,438,000 be removed from the total request for $123,751,000. He points out that major proposals in the amount requested by the department include a day hospital program and a convalescent leave system. As to the first, he comments that its real value has not yet been sufficiently established to warrant its installation on the wide basis proposed. As to the second, he states that there is must duplication of services to convalescents as between state and local mental health agencies which had better be eliminated before additional services are provided.

It is very interesting to note that the report makes no recom-

CHAPEL CHIMES

By
Rev. N. J. Thompson

Somebody has said, "America's first line of defense is the Christian home. Our great need today is not guided missiles, but guided morals."

The monster clutching at our country's jugular vein is not Russia. The real threat is internal — the weakening of our moral and spiritual fiber. This is definitely our most serious danger, because its corroding influence is not recognized.

Not long ago, FBI Director Edgar Hoover commented, "Our nation committed in 1959 over one and a half million crimes classified as very serious."

Strange indeed is the spectacle of statesmen and soldiers seeking to solve the problem of a world poised on the brink of catastrophe — while shutting God out of the conference room. Jesus noted emphatically that the man who mentation with respect to the one department, motor vehicles, which actually requested an amount better than half a million dollars less than the current year's budget. As to this, the report comments that no information has been given regarding the proposed reduction. To the extent to which changes in departmental procedures can be made which would produce such a savings, the idea is worthwhile, the report continues, but there is danger that it might cut the negligent driver program, and thus adversely affect highway safety. The report suggests the agency should clarify the facts.

Whatever the final results may be, it is certain that the warning signals put up on many budget items by our legislative analyst will be of great assistance to those of us who are working now on the budget bill.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Club Foot

Q. "Would you please write something about clubfoot?"—L. P.

A. Clubfoot occurs about once in each thousand births, affecting boys more often than girls. The cause is unknown but clubfoot does seem to pop up in certain families. According to most doctors, the chance of having a second child afflicted in this way is about 3 per cent (3 chances in 100). Treatment of clubfoot is often started during the first six months of life. Casts are used at first. Later the child's feet are held in proper position by use of a splint or bar. After the first birthday the child can often do without the splint during the day, using it only at night for the next several months. Special shoes are then used. With early correction, about 9 out of 10 youngsters will wind up with perfectly good feet. Surgery is required in about 10 per cent of cases.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

builds his house, and life, upon the rock is a man of wisdom, a man who "heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them," (Matthew 7:24).

Long ago, an 80-year-old shepherd, with no eloquence or special talents, overthrew proud Egypt in a mass revolt, and led his people, almost three million of them, out of slavery. How? Because God worked with him.

How did young David defeat the 9½ foot warrior giant, Goliath of Gath? Because David's God guided not only his missile but his morals. Gideon, with only 300 volunteers, and God's help, defeated the Mideonite army of about 135,000! At the battle of Plassey, in 1737, Olive's British army of 3,000 defeated Suraj-ud-Daula's 68,000!

Despite a veneer of religiosity, our nation is suffering from a tragic moral slump. It is high time we set about repairing our first line of defense, the Christian home.

It is time to seek the Lord!

AT LAST! Science Now Gives You Clear Hearing Again . . .

WITH NOTHING IN EITHER EAR!

The new electronic "break-through" has aroused enthusiasm among business men who don't want to wear a hearing aid, but want to hear clearly in conferences, meetings, at the theatre, etc.

It's no longer necessary to advertise your deafness by cupping a hand behind your ear, asking people to repeat, or wearing an old-fashioned "hearing aid." It's no longer necessary to miss the theatre because you can't sit in the first few rows.

The exclusive, patented new Listener will let you hear clearly without having a seat in the front row. It's always ready. Put it on or take it off as easily as a pair of glasses. No wires, cords, tubes, or ear plugs — works on contact with the head. Your appearance is completely natural.

The principle is simple, but never before has it been applied with such amazing effectiveness. A remarkable new "Tympano Technique" by-passes the defective outer and middle ear, conducting sounds directly through the mastoid process to the healthy, active inner hearing mechanism.

Find out — without any cost or obligation — how this scientific electronic development will help you hear again clearly and distinctly WITH ABSOLUTELY NOTHING IN EITHER EAR. Find out how it can help you enjoy normal business, social and religious life.

Just send name and address for FREE booklet on new patented "Tympano Technique." Write: Otation Listener Laboratories, 2936 Mariposa Street, Ossining, N. Y. (Adv.)

PHEASANT, TROUT POLICY IS CONSIDERED

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18—Three items of considerable public interest will be on the agenda when the California Fish and Game commission meets tomorrow in the division of highways building in San Francisco.

The commission will consider a new policy on planting of catchable trout; new policy on raising and planting pheasants, and a proposed policy on introduction of new warm water game fish in certain California waters.

PANTHERS HAVE OUTSIDE CHANCE; BERMUDA WINS

Porterville High School's fast finishing Panthers stopped the formerly red hot Tulare Redskins last Friday night in the PUHS gym to grab their third consecutive Central Yosemite League win. The tall veteran Panthers started slowly in CYL competition, dropping games to Tulare, Mr. Whitney, Hanford, and Redwood. But of late the Panthers have turned tiger and started eating their CYL competitors alive.

The Panthers have two more league contests, with Mt. Whitney and Hanford, and should things go right, there is an outside chance that the local outfit could come home with the bacon. The Panthers meet the Mt. Whitney Pioneers in the local gym Friday night.

But no such luck for the Porterville College Pirates. The Pirates now sport a 17-3 record as a result of splitting last week's meetings with Fresno and Taft. Friday night the Pirates were smashed handily by the Fresno City College Rams 99-74 but Saturday night the Pirates traveled to Taft to hand the Cougars a 72-66 setback. The Pirates are currently tied for second place with Fresno, both squads have 6-3 league records and the locals are due to fall once more as they meet the almost unbeatable Allan Hancock Bulldogs on the high school hardwood Saturday night.

The Pirates will end this 1959-60 basketball season late this month when they meet the Coalinga Falcons on February 26 at home and travel to Reedley on February 27 for the final contest of the season.

No doubt the Pirates made a few mistakes in losing to Fresno. But everyone makes mistakes. We even make them, if that's imaginable. We made a mistake last Friday. It seems that we didn't work that day, in observance of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, a long dead but much revered former president. But our particular mistake that day was in reading John Daybell's column in this paper. His poetic prose lulled us

Dr. Spencer Given District PTA Honor

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 18 — Dr. Richard Spencer, Porterville optometrist, was awarded an honorary life membership by the 21st district PTA at annual Founders' day meeting, recently, in Dinuba. He was praised for his work in child and youth welfare, work in the Boy Scout program, and in the Porterville Sheltered Workshop.

into the mistaken idea that we might have some ability in the great outdoors. We read Mr. Daybell's column and descended upon our combination bed of Bermuda grass and ivy with vengeance.

It was an epic battle, worthy of cinemascopes and stereophonic sound. It was one of those things seldom seen in our modern society. Man against nature, no puny men's tools, just our own pudgy hands and that strong wiry Bermuda grass, lying there like some dormant beast. Several hours and many strained muscles later we had cleared about six square feet and felt that victory was near at hand. We went into the house and bade the wife prepare a victory feast. While she warmed the Campbell Soup we went back out and staged our final attack.

It was short and vicious and we thought we had won. We had cleared a rather nice-sized area on east side of our front door and felt that, at last, we had won a victory over the Bermuda grass.

But the truth of truths was revealed to us this morning when we left for work. We glanced down at our recently cleared homestead and found that the Bermuda grass had returned and again occupied the once conquered land. We went on to work, slumped shouldered and beaten. Bermuda grass shall prevail, we fear.

After reading the Sunday garden section and seeing an article on landscaping the inside of your bathroom we're a little "shook up". We know someone will be in looking for a flowering shrub to match their pink bath tub — Or maybe something with a leaf to match the wallpaper. This will be followed by requests for a low branched tree with a place to hang the towel and hold the soap. — More better we should all move back to the woods.

We can also see the husband having to mow the bathroom or trim the vines back from the mirror before the guests arrive. Being husbands ourselves we're chilly to the whole subject. Maybe though we shouldn't be because this is just an indication of the changing times. Used to be the bathroom was outside in the yard, now they're moving the yard inside. Progress they call it.

Should you progress over here to "E" Street and be lucky enough to get waited on we have a long list of pretties to sell. This includes all the new varieties of Petunias, Shrubs of every description, Shade for next summer, Fruit Trees of quality, and Garden Seed too numerous to mention. Come early and avoid the rush. the road into Balch park, and within the park, be maintained in good condition by the county.

"It is the opinion of this organization," the Springville chamber letter states, "that the county board of supervisors will maintain these roads to, and also within, Balch park if there is public demand to warrant the expenditure.

"Therefore, we are requesting that every interested organization write to the board of supervisors requesting . . . that roads be maintained on a year around basis."

It is reported that winter sports fans have tried to get to Balch park, but have been unable to do so because the road is not being kept open during the winter months.

Morgan To Run

Kings and Tulare Counties. Most of these problems are economic in nature; be they agriculture, water development, education, small business, labor or welfare. I think it would be tragic to try and solve our problems by pitting one segment of our society against another."

Morgan, a barber who owns his own shop in the Village Shopping Center in Porterville, is married to Phyllis Stirn Morgan, an elementary school teacher. They have two children.

In political activity Morgan has twice been elected to the Tulare County Democratic Central Committee, has served on the California Democratic Council and was twice a delegate to the State Democratic convention. In the last state election he served as co-chairman in Kings and Tulare Counties for the successful campaign of Lt. Governor Glenn Anderson. He also participated in the last national election in the campaign of Estes Kefauver in the senator's bid for delegate votes in the state presidential preferential primary.

"I believe strongly in the two-party system and the necessity of political party function," Morgan said, adding, "I also feel a public official's prime responsibility is to the people of his district. With this in mind, I pledge to conduct a clean, aggressive campaign based on the issues involved with fairness and dignity at all times."

Morgan lists agriculture and water development as the major issues in the Assembly campaign. "I feel the present incumbent, Myron Frew, has shown total disregard for the people and the problems of Kings and Tulare Counties by his past expressions, action and voting record in Sacramento in the fields of agriculture and water development," Morgan said.

The candidate is a veteran of World War II, serving in the Pacific theater of operations with the U.S. Army Air Force. He is a member of the Methodist church, Masonic Lodge, Royal Arch Masons, Orange Belt Toastmasters club, and is past commander of Mt. Whitney Post 2001, Veterans of Foreign Wars.
